In total, the drivers of the Bulldog Racing team will have driven approximately 712,500 kilometers on the Nordschleife. They have already started a total of 29 times at the Eifel Endurance Classic.

Race 1: Back in the pits after 14 laps driven.

In the first race the #112 MINI John Cooper Works of Bulldog Racing started from row 18 in starting group 2. On board Danny Brink (GER), who was replaced by Jens Dralle (GER) after 7 driven laps. The duo managed a best lap time of 9:57 minutes. However, after 2:33:56 hours and 14 laps driven, the race car was parked in the pits due to a technical breakdown. The car was prepared by the team for the 2nd qualifying race during the night on Sunday.

Race 2: Further improvement in lap times.

On Sunday, the second qualifying race was held. This time the MINI John Cooper Works started from grid position 80. The #112 of Bulldog Racing finished the race after 3:08:41 hours in position 52, piloted by Markus Fischer (AUT) with a total of 12 laps and Uwe Krumscheid (GER) in another 5 laps. The best lap time was further improved to 9:53 minutes.

Jens Dralle (GER): "I gained my first motorsport experience in 2010 on a MINI John Cooper Works as part of the MINI Challenge. I'm really looking forward to competing again in a MINI at the Nürburgring 24 Hours with Bulldog Racing."

Uwe Krumscheid (GER): "The Nordschleife is my home track, I live less than 500 meters from it. The MINI John Cooper Works from Bulldog Racing is "Made in Nürburg" and comes from the neighbourhood. I'm looking forward to contesting my 16th 24h race at the Nürburgring with this special car."

Markus Fischer (AUT): "The highlight of my 2022 season is participating in the 24h race. There is nothing better than a 24-hour race on the most feared track in the world. I'm really excited to be part of this project from MINI and enjoy being able to get involved in the fine-tuning."

Danny Brink (GER): "As a counterpoint to everyday life, I'm always looking for challenges. Bulldog Racing's project with the new MINI John Cooper Works combines a lot of Nordschleife know-how and is made for me, I'm looking forward to my 9th start in a 24h race at the Nürburgring."

"I am looking forward to the 24h race and the use of the MINI John Cooper Works and wish Team Bulldog Racing every success. To our fans, I can promise that we are working intensively on concepts for John Cooper Works with electric drive. For the John Cooper Works brand, the consistent electrification of the MINI product range opens up completely new perspectives," says Stefanie Wurst, Head of the MINI Brand. The aim is to transfer the performance character of the brand, which is intensely inspired by a passion for racing, to electromobility. In this way, sustainability and extreme sportiness are combined in a unique way.
