

LKQ Europe and Mobivia announce strategic partnership

June 29, 2023

The leading distributor of automotive aftermarket parts in Europe and Europe's largest independent provider of automotive maintenance and repair services forge alliance.

Zug, Switzerland. Leading the independent aftermarket of the future, Mobivia S.A. and LKQ Europe have entered into a strategic partnership in Germany. This agreement is based on a dual mode of collaboration, which includes the delivery of automotive parts for Mobivia's ATU branches across Germany, as well as optimizing the logistics process. Mobivia is Europe's largest independent provider of automotive maintenance and repair services. Mobivia operates under eleven brands in 18 countries across Europe, including Norauto, Auto 5, Midas, Carter-Cash, as well as ATU.

"We are delighted to partner with LKQ Europe and benefit from their state-of-the-art distribution network across Germany," says Fabien Derville, Chairman of the Board at Mobivia. "Both companies are leaders in the European automotive aftermarket, and thanks to this collaboration we will achieve significant efficiencies, which will further enhance the service levels to our customers."

"This strategic partnership leverages the respective strengths of Mobivia and LKQ to provide a differentiated solution that is unrivaled in the marketplace. We share a common spirit: delivering the best-in-class services to our customers and providing sustainable and affordable mobility," says Varun Laroyia, Chief Executive Officer of LKQ Europe.
